

The Asia in Maryland (AIM) Cultural History Project
Spring 2016

Student Research

Student Researcher: Elayna Daminabo

Subject: Abby Song: Contemporary Hanbok Designer

Abby song is a young Korean artist. She came to America when she was eleven years old. She studied painting at MICA University. She is very interested in Korean traditional art and in the basic culture of life. She decided to study the garment and design her own hanboks.

Applications:

Abby Song was the guest artist at the AA&CC donor appreciation reception in May 2016. She displayed several of the costumes she created as well as her paintings. Guests chatted with her about her work throughout the event. Elayna also attended the event and shared her research with our guests. We hope to include Abby's work in an Asia in Maryland exhibition in fall 2018.
