

SCHOOL OF EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES

Email: schakraborty@towson.edu
mbowman@towson.edu

Website: SET

School of Emerging Technology (SET)

- An inter-disciplinary center with an aim to promote interdisciplinary research involving technology
 - Seed funding of Research Projects
 - Special Interest Groups
 - Collaborative Grant Writing workshops with OSPR and FACET

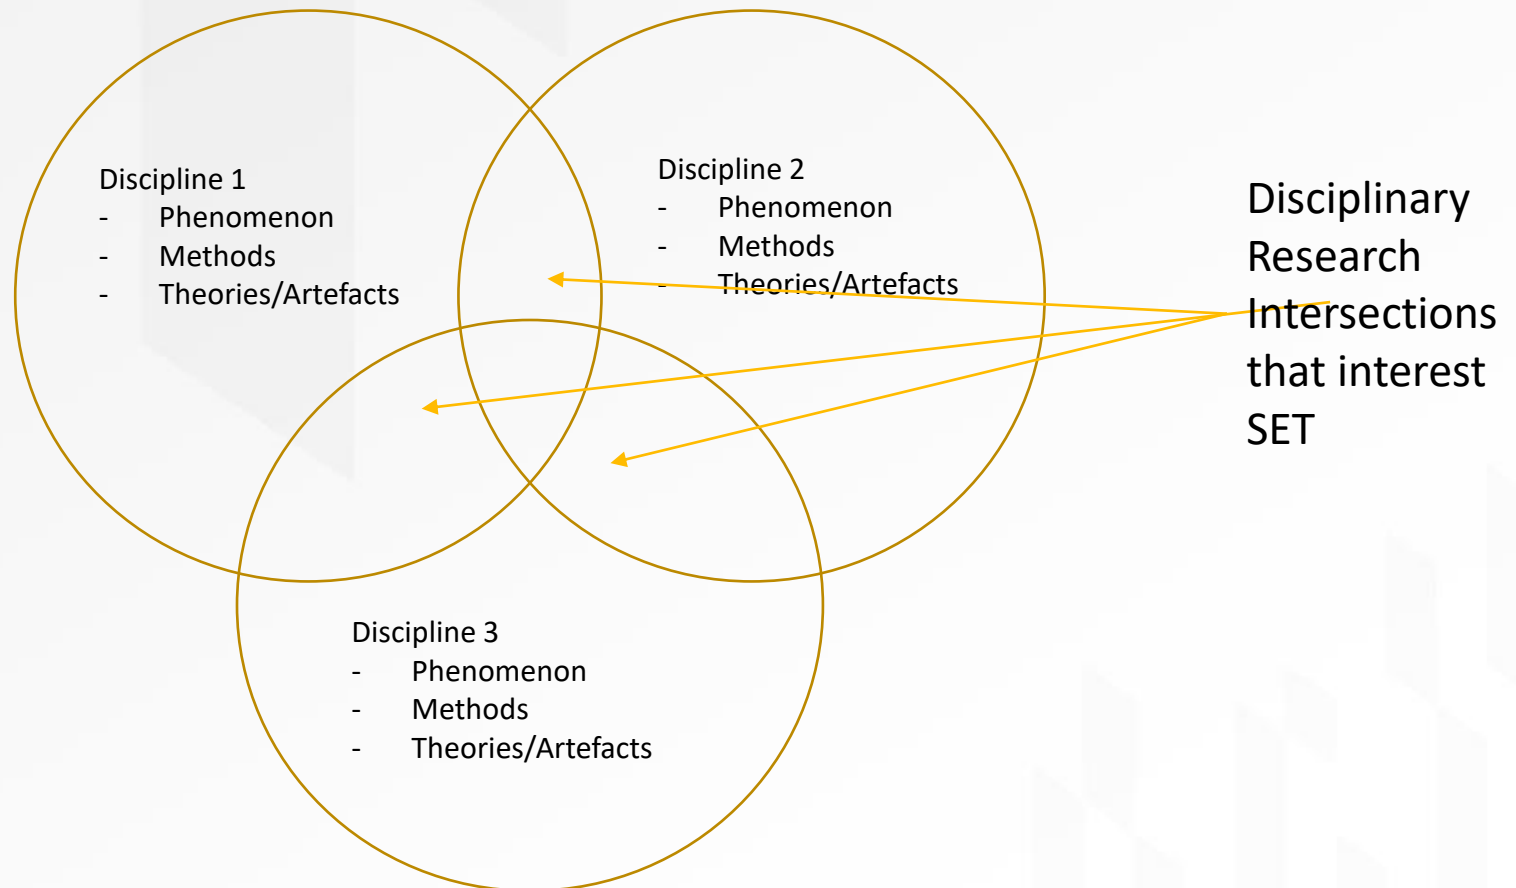

Seed Funding Grants: Technology

- Seed funding for academic research
 - Inter-disciplinary
 - focus on emerging and emergent technology

- Innovative applications of technology along diverse disciplinary applications
- Implications of technology in the broader society
- Technology as a means of human and societal development
- Technology innovations for knowledge organization and its application
- Developing new insights on technology using theoretical and research approaches from the social sciences, and humanities

Seed funding grants: Inter-disciplinarity

Research themes of interest

- Sustainability
- Technology and technology literacy for human and societal development
- Knowledge Organization to enhance organizational memory.

Seed Funding grants: Pedagogical initiatives

- Other research related areas of funding
 - Fund explorations of interdisciplinary applications of pedagogical tools/methods in existing curriculum; pedagogical research with interdisciplinary foundations
 - Fund inter-disciplinary curricular initiatives
 - MS in Marketing Intelligence (hosted at CBE)
 - PBC in Health Information Technology (a collaboration between MS in AIT program and College of Health Professions)
 - Introduction to cyber-security – a course for TU Core.
 - Curriculum for sustainability – coordinated by CoP Sustainability

Seed Funding grants: Application Process

- RFP
- Deadline
- Templates
- Submission mechanism

Seed Funding grants: Support for application

- Set up meeting to discuss plan/idea – Fridays 9:00 – noon through zoom.
- Review of draft proposal