

Re-establishing Democracy in Yemen: How the World Can Help

Dr. Nadia al-Sakkaf is a prominent Yemeni scholar and journalist who promotes sustainable social and environmental development in Yemen. She served for a short time as minister of information in the Yemeni government and was long-time editor in chief of the prominent English language newspaper Yemen Times. She is currently a researcher with the 21 Century Forum based in London.

Dr. al-Sakkaf comes to Towson University as a scholar at the Global Academy of the Middle East Studies Association

Wednesday
21 February
10:00am LA 4310