Honors Study Abroad/Away by Program Type AY 2022-23

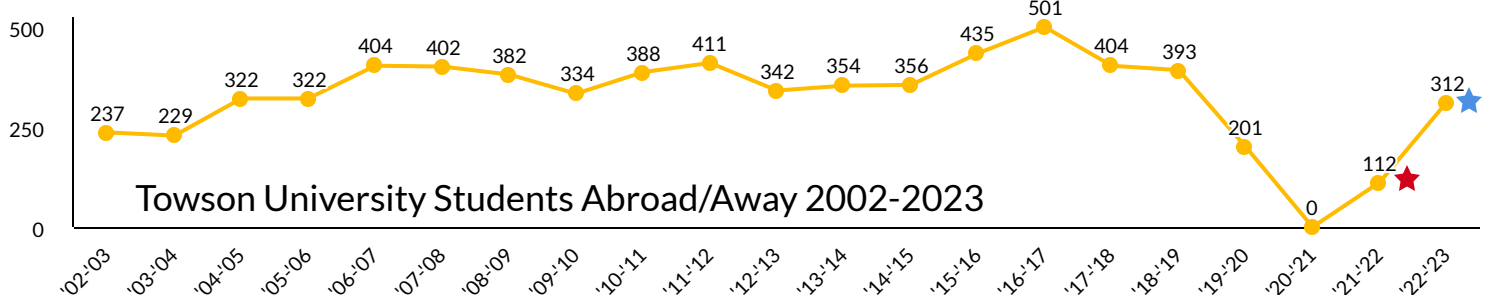

"The skills of adaptability, problem solving, communicating and tolerating ambiguity have all been enhanced in the students. They can be more flexible with changes and communicate with people in a different language. They got to see others' views on different topics which made them more open minded with understanding a different opinion. Students can better solve problems that may arise with resiliency."

~ Dr. Diego del Pozo, Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures
