

VERIFICATION OF PARENT IN COLLEGE 2009-2010

The needs analysis formula used by the Department of Education does not consider the enrollment of a parent in college. The Towson University Financial Aid Office will reevaluate the need of a student whose parent enrolls full-time at an institution of higher education for at least one semester of the 2009-2010 academic year. The parent's school must be an "eligible institution," that is, a school that is eligible to give Federal Title IV funds, and the parent must have admission to the school in a degree or certificate program.

Including a parent in the need analysis formula will often lower the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and increase the student's financial need. However, parents and students must realize that financial aid funds are limited and programs have statutory annual limits. Therefore, although the student's calculated need may increase, the Financial Aid Office may not be able to increase the student's aid offer. Additional funds, when available, will usually take the form of an additional loan for the student or the parent.

Complete the box below with information on the Towson University student who is applying for aid.

The parent should complete Part I of the form on the reverse side. In addition, the parent should ask an official at his or her school to complete Parts II and III and to return the form to Towson University.
