

JOHN GISSENDANNER LECTURE:

The Tempest in the Teapot... or the Gardenspot:

Black Folks and the Cultural Politics of Food Shaming

Dr. Psyche Williams-Forson

Professor and chair of the Department of American Studies at the University of Maryland College Park and author of Eating While Black: Food Shaming and Race in America (winner of the James Beard Media Award for Food Issues and Advocacy) and, Building Houses out of Chicken Legs: Black Women, Food, and Power (winner of the Elli Köngäs-Maranda Prize, American Folklore Society).

This event is free and open to the public.

Sponsored by the The John Gissendanner Fund.

Tuesday
April 23, 2024

Lecture 6:00 PM
Lecture Hall
Room 0238

available via Zoom

