Roommate Group Process Overview

The Roommate Group Process gives students the opportunity to select the roommates they would like to live with for the upcoming academic year. This process is not required, so if students are looking to participate in room selection without a roommate, they do not need to complete this process. Students need to complete the Returning Student Housing Application to participate in the Roommate Group Process. The Returning Student Housing Application closes at 11:59pm EST on March 14, 2025.

Process Definitions

Roommate groups are composed of a Group Leader and its members.

- Group Leader the student that creates the roommate group. The roommate group will be named after the Group Leader. The Group Leader is also the student who goes into the system during the room selection process to assign themselves and their roommates to a unit for next year. The Group Leader can assign the Group Leader role to any other group member.
- Members students that accepted their roommate group invitation.

Important Notes About this Process

- Roommate Group Leaders will use TUID numbers to search for and then invite up to 3 students to be in their roommate group.
- Invited students must have completed the housing application process. The system will not allow anyone to invite a student who has not completed the housing application process. If students can't find their desired roommate, they should communicate with the desired roommate directly and verify that they have completed the housing application process. If they have completed the contract and they are still unable to find each other, they should email housing@towson.edu.
- All roommate groups must be of the same legal sex unless requesting Gender Inclusive Housing. Students who indicated an interest in Gender Inclusive Housing will only be able to pull in other students who also indicated GIH interest.
- Students are permitted to request students from class statuses/standings that are different than their own.
 - PLEASE NOTE: Pairs or groups with different class statuses (cumulative credit hours) will have their housing selection timeslots impacted. For example, if a group of three (3) rising seniors added a rising junior to their group, they would have a later timeslot than a group of all rising seniors.
- Selection timeslots are generated by cumulative credit hours.
 - Students must successfully form their roommate groups by March 23rd to be assigned together.
 - Every student in the group must accept the request from the Group Leader.

Solos, Pairs, & Groups: Introduction and Overview

See below for a short task list for each category of the Roommate/Group Formation Process:

- Find a roommate to create a pair.
- Find roommates to be part of a group OR
- Participate in room selection by yourself.
- Find a roommate.
- Send roommate request OR accept their request.
- Participate in room selection as a pair.
- Group Leader sends invite to ALL members.
- EACH group member MUST accept Group Leader's roommate invitation.
- Participate in room selection as a group

Group Sizes & Available Housing

Only rooms large enough to accommodate your roommate group will be displayed during the room selection process. Remember, only the Room Group Leader will participate in room selection. They will assign the group members to their spaces within the room, suite, or apartment during the room selection process. Use the chart below as well as the Proposed 2025–2026 Housing & Meal Plan Rates as guides in determining the size of your roommate group.

Same Building Room Selection Process

Students wishing to stay in their current building must complete the Same Building Agreement via the Living@TU Portal by the March 23rd deadline and select their space during the Same Building Room Selection Process as long as their building is available for returning students. During this process, the Group Leader can only select to live in the building they are currently assigned to.

Same Building Process Exceptions

- Current Douglass House residents will only be able to participate in the Same Building Selection Process if they are an honors student who currently lives in Douglass House or if they are in a roommate group with an honors student currently living in Douglass House.
- Current Richmond Hall residents are unable to participate in the Same Building Process as this is a First Year Living Learning Community.

Students with roommate groups can pull-in their group members to the Same Building Process. Students in a roommate group should designate the Group Leader role to the person currently living in the building their group wants to live in. Group Leaders will be confirmed and can be changed once the group receives their Same Building Selection Timeslot.

Steps for Completing Same Building Room Selection Process:

- 1. Complete 2025-2026 Housing Application Process via the Living@TU Portal by March 14th
- 2. Complete Same Building Agreement via Living@TU Portal by March 23rd (all roommates must complete this agreement)
- 3. Receive Same Building Selection Timeslot on April 4th
- 4. Group Leader (or Solo student) assigns themselves and/or roommates to a space in Group Leader's current building
 - a. The Same Building Room Selection Process will take place on April 10th and April 11th
- 5. Students who miss the same building process will not be guaranteed space in their same building, but they will receive a General Room Selection Process timeslot on April 17th and will be able to participate in General Room Selection, which takes place April 28th through May 2nd.

How to Create a Roommate Group

The Roommate Group Leader should have the TUID number of the student(s) they would like to invite before starting this process.
